Attention Health Educators, Social Workers and Counselors

IDENTIFY, STOP AND PREVENT BULLYING

New Mexico Human Rights Projects (nmhrp.org), a nonprofit organization bringing successful programs to teachers and students since 1995 addressing the importance of respecting differences, is proud to offer another dynamic professional development training for Health Educators, Social Workers and Counselors.

Mike Dreiblatt president of Stand Up To Bullying and an outstanding national speaker will present a dynamic, practical workshop that will engage and empower attendees to replace bullying with more appropriate behavior.

A former teacher, Mike taught for 16 years in New York City and Vermont. He is an expert in bullying and violence prevention, teaching best practices and realistic strategies that can be used immediately.

Some interesting statistics:

- 23% of students in grades 4-6 had been bullied “several times” or more; 20% had bullied others.
- 17% of students in grades 6-10 reported having been bullied “sometimes” or more, with 8% being bullied once a week. 19% said they had been a bully to others “sometimes” or more.
- Nearly one in five students in an average classroom is experiencing bullying in some way. The rest of the students, called bystanders, are also affected by the bullying.

Thank you so much for the excellent presentation yesterday. I have been to endless seminars, and unfortunately it is rare that I have come away with so much practical information, and food for thought.
